The engine struck the logs and went off the track, followed into the ditch by one baggage car, the other with the cars remaining on the track. Several passengers were bruised, but none seriously hurt. The robbers, who were masked, after rifling the safe of the express messenger and securing its contents, rode off on horseback. Large quantities of new grain are coming in for storage, the farmers preferring to hold on account of the low prices.

LETTER FROM SALEM.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

Salem, July 21, 1873.

To the Editor of the Oregonian.

There has not a great deal transpired in the Capital during the last week, except the robbery of Messrs. Weatherford & Co.'s drug store; the valuables taken were very little, but demonstrated to the merchants of this city, that their brick stores were poor affairs, when an accomplished burglar put them to test. This last feat also convinced them that their burglar-proof safes, as they suppose, were of not much consequence. On Saturday night an attempt was also made on

WELLS, FARGO & CO.'S

Express Office, but the policeman who discovered them, unfortunately interfered, instead of arousing assistance and gobbling the whole three, and they made good their escape, although shots were exchanged.

On Sunday last the

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH SOUTH

Rev. Dr. Dawne pastor, was dedicated and thrown open for public worship. It is a small but neat wooden structure, and is situated very near the center of the town.

MEETING OF THE SUPREME COURT.

At present their are a goodly number of attorneys-at-law in the city, who have come to attend the Supreme Court which met to-day according to adjournment from last February. Owing to the death of one of the Associate Justices, Hon. A. J. Thayer, the old cases will have to be re-argued; therefore it will probably detain the Court something longer than it was anticipated, and the different attorneys will be compelled to do their work over again. By motion of Hon. Wm. Strong, the Court adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning (Tuesday) through respect to the memory of Hon. A. J. Thayer and J. G. Wilson. There was a meeting of the bar this evening to draw up appropriate resolutions on that subject.

The new Court House is now rapidly approaching completion, and presents a fine appearance; but the

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLAR DEBT

Does not set very easily on the tax-payers of this county, and considerable dissatisfaction is manifested thereby.

"WHO IS THE UNLUCKY MAN?"

It is now becoming quite apparent to quite a number of Democrats in this city, that Hon. J. W. Nesmith is not going to be allowed to walk over the course for the

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION

As easily as they first imagined. Mr. Slater, of Eastern Oregon, is disposed to try his hand again, and Southern Oregon is not as harmonious as they could wish on that subject, while a portion of Linn is decidedly "fernist" him. But the State officials, I have been told, are solid for Mr. Nesmith, and they may secure the nomination for him.

THE CAPITAL.

Work is now being rapidly pushed forward on the State Capitol building, and the money that is being expended gives a little relief to the city, and especially to those about the works. The average payment is about $2.00 per week.

GENERAL NOTES.

An exchange tells us that Wilmington, Delaware, has just paid $80,000 for land for a public park. The land was most probably bought of Pennsylvania or Maryland, as there isn't that much in Delaware.

Illinois is the first State in the Union in respect to the number of miles of railway service. She has 6,526 miles of such service; Ohio comes next with 4,877 miles; New York third with 4,526 miles, and Pennsylvania fourth with 3,670 miles.

A Graphic poet has a poemlet in a recent issue of that publication entitled "Babbling of Green Fields." We had heretofore supposed that the little brooks and streams monopolized the "babbling" business, but if green fields can babble, let 'em bab.

Walter Savage Landor related how he once met Napoleon walking in the garden of the Tuileries, and added, in characteristic Landor style: "The fellow looked at me so insolently that if I had not had a lady on my arm I should have knocked him down."

Sidney Smith was good-natured and tolerant; but when Lord Melbourne, whom he had gone to see upon business, interlarded his conversation with much cursing and swearing, he quietly remarked, "Let us assume that everybody and everything are damned, and proceed for the subject."

A near-sighted and inquisitive stranger kicked an ornamental dog on a street stoop to see if it was solid or hollow. It was not solely an ornamental dog, however, but one that was there on business, and the near-sighted and inquisitive stranger is now quarantined in his hotel for a few days.

MEETING AT SEATTLE.

At a public meeting held in Seattle last Thursday, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The North Pacific Railroad Company has located its Western terminus on Commencement Bay, in Pierce county, W. T.; and,

Whereas, The withdrawal of land for the benefit of said railroad company, north of Pierce county, to wit: In King, Kitsap, Snohomish, Island and Whatcom, includes vast coal fields and large tracts of timber and agricultural lands; and,

Whereas, The said withdrawal is retarding the growth and development of said counties; therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st. That the interest of said counties and justice to the inhabitants thereof demand an immediate vacation of said withdrawal.

Resolved, 2d. That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Hon. Willis Drummond, Commissioner of General Land Office, and the Hon. C. Delano, Secretary of Interior.

The Death of Mrs. Booker.—From the N. Y. Times of the 11th inst., we take the annexed concerning the death of Mrs. Utica V. Booker.

Coroner Herman, accompanied by Dr. Joseph Cushman, proceeded to the Woodhull-Claflin mansion, and instituted an investigation. He was informed by different members of the family that the deceased had for ten or twelve years past been of very intemperate habits, indulging to an inordinate extent in brandy, gin, whisky, beer, &c., and on several occasions had been known to drink bay rum when no other liquor was accessible. She had also been known to take 1,000 grains of bromide of potassium in a week, and 300 grains of the drug in a day. As a consequence, she was frequently attacked with delirium tremens, and during the paroxysms would jump out of bed and chase the members of the family, threatening to kill them, &c. Mesdames Woodhull and Claflin asked that a post mortem examination be made of the remains of their sister, and Tennie desired to be present during the autopsy, but to this Coroner Herrman would not consent. In the presence of several physicians Dr. Cushman made the autopsy, and the examination of the internal organs showed conclusively that death had resulted from Bright's disease of the kidneys, caused by excessive intemperance. An inquest was at once held and a verdict in accordance with the above facts rendered.

Oxford has just bestowed an honorary degree upon Prof. Tyndall, greatly to the chagrin of C. A. Heurtley, Margaret Professor of Divinity, who objects that Prof. Tyndall denies "the credibility of miracles and the efficacy of prayer." It is true that the University only last summer conferred a degree upon a Mohammedan, but the Doctor thinks "there is surely a material difference between the case of persons who are simply misbelievers or unbelievers and that of one who has publicly employed his pen in the interests of skepticism." There may be a difference, but we confess that we cannot see the difference.

BAR MEETING.

PROCEEDINGS IN RELATION TO THE DEATH OF HON. A. J. THAYER AND HON. J. G. WILSON.

Salem, July 21, 1873.

Pursuant to call the members of the Oregon Bar held a meeting at the Supreme Court rooms for the purpose of transacting business relative to the decease of Judge A. J. Thayer and Hon. J. G. Wilson.

The meeting was called to order by Hon. John Kelsay, and Judge Wm. Strong was elected Chairman and H. Y. Thompson Secretary.

On motion the Chair appointed a committee of three, consisting of Hon. John Kelsay, E. C. Bronaugh and W. C. Johnson, to report resolutions on the decease of Judge A. J. Thayer, Judge of the Supreme Court; also a committee consisting of Hon. R. P. Boise, S. C. Simpson and J. N. Dolph, to report resolutions on the death of Hon. J. G. Wilson, member of Congress.

On motion the meeting adjourned to meet at 8½ o'clock July 22, 1873.

At the opening of the Supreme Court Hon. John Kelsay presented the report of the committee, and appropriate remarks and resolutions on the death of Judge A. J. Thayer:

Mr. President—Your committee, appointed to draft resolutions expressing the sense of the bar of the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon in relation to the death of Hon. A. J. Thayer, report the following and recommend their adoption:

1st. Resolved, That in the death of Judge Thayer, the legal profession of the State of Oregon has lost a judicial officer whose ability and integrity exhibited during his service upon the bench have secured their enduring confidence and esteem.

2. Resolved, That the loss is not confined to the members of the bar, nor to his associates on the bench of the Supreme Court, but will be felt also by the citizens of this State generally, to a large number of whom he was long and favorably known; and he will be mourned by that portion of the business community whose interests were, or were likely to be submitted to his patient investigation, his calm judgment and diligent research.

3. Resolved, That we who have been acquainted with his judicial career, will hold in grateful remembrance his courtesy and kindness which were never wanting, though specially manifested toward the young and timid; and that we will ever hold in just remembrance the exalted views of professional honor and rectitude which were exemplified in his long professional life.

4. Resolved, That a report of the proceedings of this meeting of the bar of the State, together with these resolutions, be presented to the Supreme Court of the State now in session, with the request in our behalf that the same be spread upon the records of the Court in evidence of our profound sorrow for the death of Judge Thayer, and attending respect for his memory.

JOHN KELSEY,
W. C. JOHNSON,
E. C. BRONAUGH,
Committee.

Hon. R. P. Boise presented to the Court with appropriate remarks, resolutions on the death of Hon. J. G. Wilson, which read as follows:

Whereas, Hon. Joseph G. Wilson, Representative from Oregon in the Congress of the United States, late an associate Justice of the Supreme Court of our State, and for many years an able and distinguished attorney at this bar, has recently been stricken down by the unsparing hand of death in the midst of his career of usefulness and honor, now, therefore, we, the members of the bar in attendance upon this term of the Supreme Court, desiring to pay a united tribute of respect to the memory of our deceased brother, do resolve:

1. That while in common with all the citizens of Oregon we mourn the death of Judge Wilson, the loss of an able, fearless and worthy Representative in Congress, we recognize in this sad event a special calamity to the legal profession of this State, of which the deceased was so lately and so long a distinguished ornament.

2. That the ability, industry and integrity of our late associate during his long practice at this bar, and while upon the Supreme bench, uniformly commanded our esteem and confidence, while his unfailing courtesy, cheerfulness and geniality won all our hearts.

3. That we willingly bear testimony to the fact that the talent and learning of Judge Wilson as Reporter, as attorney and Justice of this court, have left an indelible impress upon the jurisprudence of our State, and "have builded him a monument more enduring than brass," and that his decease has made a void in the ranks of our profession which will not soon be easily filled.

4. That we tender to the afflicted family and friends of the deceased our heartfelt sympathy in their great bereavement.

5. That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the Supreme Court now in session with the request that they be spread upon the journal, and that suitable action be taken thereon.

SYL. C. SIMPSON,

H. Y. Thompson, on behalf of the bar of the Third Judicial District, presented the resolutions and proceedings of that district relating to the death of Judge A. J. Thayer.

The resolutions on the death of Hon. J. G. Wilson were responded to by Judge McArthur, and those relating to the death of Judge Thayer by Judge Mosher.

The court ordered the resolutions to be entered in the journal, and the clerk to send copies under the seal of the court to the families of the deceased.

HON. JACOB THOMPSON RISES TO EXPLAIN.

Memphis, July 15.—The Avalanche this morning published a long letter from Hon. Jacob Thompson, ex-Secretary of the Interior, in reference to the report of a recent discovery of a large deficit in the Interior Department while he was Secretary. The letter says that the whole case is this: The Department of the Interior is made the custodian of bonds held in trust for various Indian tribes. The interest on these bonds is regularly collected, and paid over to these tribes. A clerk in the Department is charged with their custody, and if the coupons are regularly brought forward for collection the head of the Department presumes as a matter of course that the bonds are on hand. In this case, during my administration of the Department, Mr. Bailey, a clerk of high standing and unquestionable talent, was charged with this duty. Early in the year 1861, after all the January coupons had been brought forward and regularly collected, and he had been called on to make a full statement of his accounts to the Auditor, which, in itself, was full and satisfactory, it became known that I would in a few days resign my place in the Cabinet, owing to the contemplated withdrawal of Mississippi from the Union. Then it was that Bailey sent me his confession that he had, without my knowledge or consent in any way, delivered to Russell & Co., large Government contractors, bonds to the amount of $8[illegible],000, and taken in their stead acceptances of the Secretary of War for the same amount. He stated that he had taken the responsibility of doing this to save the credit of the War Department, and had not advised me of what he had done, because he knew I would condemn it, and would not allow him to touch a single bond. As soon as the confession was received, the keys of his safe were taken from him, the contents carefully counted, and the state of things showed his confession to be true in every particular. The clerk was dismissed for infidelity to his trust, and Congress, then in session, was informed by a communication from me what had been done, and this concluded with the request that a Committee, consisting exclusively of political opponents, should be appointed to examine into and report all the facts. A Committee was appointed and a most thorough search made into all the circumstances and facts in the case. The Committee were unanimous in exculpating the Secretary from all blame whatever in the matter, and their report was received by Congress without a dissenting voice.

Pendleton had a regular thunder shower on the 18th instant—a very unusual thing there.

OREGON.

The Pendletonians are improving morally as well as otherwise. They have started a Sunday School.

The Clerk of Umatilla county issued money orders last week, allowed by the County Court, amounting to $2,409 75.

Timothy heads, 14 inches long are common things in Clatsop county. The third crop this year on the same land, is now three feet high, according to the Astorian.

Albee Bros. have gathered together 700 head of cattle in Umatilla county to take to Nevada. They are all three and four-year-olds, and they paid $20 for three and $25 for four-year-olds.

It was decided by the Judges of the Supreme Court that the old business will be first attended to; and that, in consequence of the death of Judge Thayer, the cases submitted at the last term will have to be reargued.

We are informed that there has been discovered, near the head of Willow creek, Umatilla county, a coal ledge which is supposed to be pure. It is being prospected by Mr. Welch, a gentleman who understands coal mining.

A correspondent writes that the following are the officers for the ensuing term of Union Lodge No. 39, I. O. O. F., located in Union, Union county: J. A. Benoit, N. G.; W. S. Long, V. G.; J. C. Huson, R. S.; S. T. Ulmn, P. S.; D. B. Hilts, T.

Benton county had $2,084 35 in her treasury on the 1st inst., $1,739 94 of which belongs to the School Fund. The total receipts of the county fund amounted to $12,787 92, while the expenditures footed up $15,284 40, leaving outstanding orders to the tune of $3443 91.

Our correspondent at Baker City, writing under date of July 14th, says: "The great race between the Ross mare and Alex. LeBuff's horse Buckskin, came off to-day. It was a single dash of one mile for a purse of $1,600, and was won by the mare in 1:52. About $3,000 changed hands on the result.

Last Sabbath, in Salem, the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church (South) organized a Sabbath School by electing the following officers: Rev. Dr. Dawne (pastor), Superintendent; William Mauzey, Secretary; Wallace Mauzey, Librarian; Miss Jennie Miller, Treasurer; Miss Nellie Beal, Organist.

A letter from Baker City dated July 19th, says: "General Jeff. C. Davis came in town last evening and remained until morning, and has passed on, en route to Walla Walla. We raised the flag, fired a salute and are pleased to say we have had the honor of seeing so brave and gentlemanly an officer. The troops of General Davis' command will pass here to-day or to-morrow, en route to Fort Walla Walla.

Our correspondent at Harrisburg says: "There are three warehouses in course of erection—two on the river and one at the depot—capable of holding 100,000 bushels of wheat. These added to the warehouses already built will make the storage capacity about 200,000 bushels, which, no doubt, is no more than will be needed, as a great many farmers who have heretofore stored their grain at other places will make this their headquarters this fall, on account of having the benefit of the opposition on the river."

A correspondent of the Sentinel, writing from Prichard's, Umatilla county, says: "Times are a little improved. Stock is looking fine. Grass on the hills or pasturage is better than ever before since the settlements here. Hay-making grass not of the best, although good. Crops generally look well. Fruit crops rather light, only in one or two instances. I hear Jess, of Burnt river, has a good crop of peaches. Some fruit trees are dying, whether from the hard winter or hard treatment, or no treatment, I have not learned."

The Pendletonian boasts of Umatilla county thus: "Umatilla county cannot be surpassed on the Pacific coast as a stock country. Along the Blue mountains there is a vast extent of land, the finest range that can be found anywhere, and it is beautifully watered, and well sheltered from the storms of winter—when there are any. Stock of all kinds are healthy, disease among them being unknown. The fine bunch grass is rich, and stock fatten rapidly on it. Umatilla county is, without a doubt, one of the finest stock countries there is anywhere.

THE TERRITORIES.

Vancouver is now deeply interested to know how near and when the railroad will come to it.

Court convened at Steilacoom last Monday, with Judge Jacobs presiding. A full bar in attendance.

Rev. Bishop Morris administered the rite of confirmation to four persons at Olympia on Sunday last.

Rev. N. McLeod, of Salt Lake, is telling the Californians what he knows about the mines and Mormons of Utah.

On Thursday, the 24th inst., the Mormons will celebrate the twenty-sixth anniversary of the settlement of Utah.

Rumors are current at Walla Walla of an appropriation of a large amount of money by a book-keeper, and a failure to account for the same.

Some Olympians went on a pleasure excursion to Tacoma the other day, which was not a very pleasant excursion from what the Courier says about it.

At Virginia City, Montana, wheat is selling at 50 cents a bushel. Cattle are being driven by the thousand to Nevada and Utah, there being absolutely no home market.

The lawyers who attended the late term of the District Court in Pacific county, W. T., made a "waterhaul." There was only one case on the docket, and that went by default.

The third expedition for the final survey and establishment of the route for the Northern Pacific Railway between the town of Bismarck and the Rocky Mountains, started out on the 20th ult. from Bismarck.

General Jefferson C. Davis, commander of the Department of Columbia, is expected to arrive at Walla Walla early in the coming week. It has been mainly on General Davis' recommendation that the old military post is to be reoccupied.

A party of prospectors last week left Dayton, W. T., in search of gold mines said to exist in the Blue Mountains, near the head of the Patit. They had an old Indian for a pilot, who claims to know the locality of the mines, and gave his companions leave to hang him if he failed to point them out the spot.

The horses attached to a hearse, in which was the body of Mr Gholson who died near Walla Walla lately, ran away as the funeral procession was moving toward the cemetery. The driver was thrown from his seat and knocked senseless. The horses finally became detached from the hearse, and left it standing uninjured on the road.

One who has visited the wonderful Geyser region in the Yellowstone National Park, near the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad, expresses the belief that this collection of natural marvels will be of more importance to the revenues of the railroad in the multitudes of tourists it will attract, than would be a city of 150,000 people midway on the route.

The Walla Walla Statesman of the 19th inst. says: "Our farmer friends inform us that the heavy rain storm in the early part of the week has done much damage to the grain crop. In some places whole fields of wheat are beaten to the earth and left in such a condition that it will be impossible to harvest the crop. Grain in this valley never looked so well or promised such an abundant harvest, and hence the damage is greater than could have occurred under ordinary circumstances."

The Pacific Tribune says: "The famous Steilacoom Dolly Varden case has been settled. Judge Jacobs has determined upon his decision, and carried down with him last night the opinion in his pocket. The plaintiffs, represented by Mrs. Louisa Goddime, have won at last, but in their victory have been almost undone. They, as well as the defendants, have been adjudged to pay their own costs, and that probably, in each case, amounts to more than the little sum so long and bitterly quarreled over. Like the terminus question, people from one end of the Sound to the other will sigh with relief at its settlement." We believe this case was about a sum of money which was raised at a fair or festival given by the ladies of Steilacoom, and which some of them wanted to expend for a hearse for the town and others to lay it out in some other way. They couldn't agree and so the matter went into the courts resulting as above.

The Denver News of June 26th says: A beautiful little story comes to us from down the Kansas Pacific. Out on the plains, about two hundred miles from Denver, is a vertical bluff seventy-five feet high. A party of hunters recently stampeded a herd of buffaloes right to the brink of the precipice. The foremost brutes, appreciating their critical situation, attempted to avert the calamity, but the frightened hundreds behind crowded forward with characteristic persistency. The front rank, with legs stretched toward each cardinal point of the compass, bellowed in concert and descended to their fate. Before the pressure from behind could be stopped, the next rank and the next rank followed, imitating the gesture and the bellowing of the first. For thirty seconds it rained buffaloes, and the white sand at the foot of that bluff was incarnadine with the life blood of wild meat, and not until the tails of fifty or seventy-five of that herd had waved adieu to this wicked world did the movement cease. It is a nice little story for a Sunday School book.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 23, 1873.

OREGON IN FOREIGN MARKETS.

Some days since we alluded attention to an article in a San Francisco paper, expressing a sympathy that amounted almost to actual solicitude upon the question of what Oregon is to do with her surplus flour and wheat, since the market at San Francisco is to be supplied from the California product. As we said then, the millers and merchants of Oregon, being capitalists themselves, have not only been looking abroad for a market for the surplus breadstuffs of our State, but have been also consummating arrangements for the direct importation of merchandise from foreign ports to Portland, instead of paying tribute to the San Francisco importers. We are informed that a very large proportion of the merchandise now on hand, and constantly arriving, at our principal wholesale houses, has come directly from the place of its manufacture to Portland.

We mentioned the fact of Oregon flour commanding a better price in New York than California flour. The first cargo that was shipped hence for New York, demonstrated that our flour would withstand the effects of a sea voyage better than that shipped from California. We do not pretend to know why this is so; but the fact is beyond question. Here is the report of that first cargo, on its arrival in New York, which we take from the Oregon Herald of October 26th, 1867:

We were yesterday shown a letter from the agent, in New York, of the Imperial Mills flour—from which memorized an idea only—and that is sufficient to raise our Oregon brands of flour another notch in the estimation of speculators and consumers. A lot of Imperial flour had been shipped to New York, by way of Cape Horn, and was the only lot of Oregon brands on board, the balance being of California brands. Upon arrival, it was found that all the California flour was tainted and had a disagreeable smell, sufficient to cause the holders to dispose of the same at such offers as they might receive—while the lot of Imperial flour was as sweet and in as fine condition as when shipped from Portland. Of course the inference is, that all Oregon flour will successfully stand the trip around the Horn without damage.

The reputation won for Oregon by that first shipment of Imperial flour has been maintained down to this time. Large amounts are sent to New York regularly, and the same report still comes, and our flour keeps its place not only above the California article, but at the top of the market along with the very best Mississippi valley brands.

"OUR REGULAR MURDER."

This is now a standing head in the dispatches. Hardly a day passes that we do not have one or more murders to record. Some days two, three or four are announced. Probably the list, for a whole year, at the rate now observed, would foot up not less than five hundred cases. A trifling difference, an altercation, a homicide. This is the sum of a paragraph in every day's dispatches. A dispute about some business matter involving only a few dollars at most, a quarrel over a game of cards, or some case compromising the good name of a man or his family—all are equally liable to end in the violent taking of human life.

There are certain offenses for which the wronged party may with almost perfect impunity "take the law into his own hands," as the common phrase goes, and slay the offender. The law that declares him a murderer and pronounces against him the sentence that is denounced against murderers, cannot be enforced. The jury will say he is not guilty of the crime, in the face of evidence and in defiance of the law. The man who boldly takes the life of the betrayer of his daughter or his sister, or the destroyer of his family has small need to fear the verdict of a jury of his neighbors. But how do these other slayers of men get off without answering for their crimes? There is no disposition, apparently, in community to overlook the killing of a human being without provocation; nor is there a disposition to regard every trivial difficulty as a sufficient provocation to justify a homicide. For a few months there seems to have been a tendency in the administration of criminal justice to return to the old landmarks from which the courts and juries have departed to a large extent, and to make the law again in practice what it is in theory, a terror to evil-doers, especially to manslayers. But the bloody record still continues. Murders seem to be growing no less frequent. Certain philosophers maintain that crime is sometimes an epidemic, and that once it has broken out in a community it can no more be stopped by legal proceedings than the Asiatic cholera. If this theory is correct, we may well suppose an epidemic has developed itself throughout the United States. How long it may take the disease to run its course we are not informed. If the philosopher who discovered its nature will also make known the means of arresting its activity, he will confer an inestimable blessing upon the world, and solve a problem that is engaging the attention of thoughtful persons of all classes and countries.

It is said the Shah of Persia keeps a diary of his journey to European courts, which he writes up most diligently. Of this journal he intends making a book, and will have it translated into the western languages, so that the people among whom he has traveled will have an opportunity of seeing themselves as an Oriental monarch sees them. What for an author the Shah will prove himself to be, is, of course a matter upon which we can do no more than guess, but if he is no better than most of the royal book-writers, from the days of the first Charles of England down, his book will have little to recommend it excepting the fact that its author is an Eastern prince and the owner of a number of the finest diamonds in the world. Kings and Emperors have not shown themselves to be the most brilliant of authors. Napoleon's "Life of Cæsar" was just better than Victoria's memoirs of her husband—probably because the writer of Cæsar had a subject that was not wholly worthless as a basis for a book. By the time the Shah's book—a king's authorship, at best—shall have been done into English and German and French from its Oriental idioms, it will probably require a pretty acute literary critic to discover that the three translations have been made from the original.

A letter from east of the mountains says Hon. B. Whitten is much talked of in that section as their Republican candidate for Congress.

THE ENSLAVEMENT OF THE ITALIAN CHILDREN.

The dispatch in yesterday morning's OREGONIAN, in reference to the enslavement of Italian children by a padrone at New Haven, Connecticut, exhibits a specimen of what has been going on for some time in New York and its vicinity. For some time circumstances have been coming to light one at a time, tending to show that a regular and organized business was doing in the enslavement of the children of Italian immigrants. It is but a little while since the systematic frauds practiced upon the peasants of Italy to induce them to emigrate to America, were brought to light by the arrival of hundreds of these people without friends, without means, without any idea whatever of the country they had reached, almost without clothing to cover their bodies. On inquiry it was ascertained that they had embarked from their homes in Italy upon representations of persons calling themselves agents and commissioners of immigration, for States and communities in America, and had been led to suppose that on their arrival at New York they would be met by other agents of the same authority, who would see that all their immediate wants were supplied at once, and would give them suitable employment whereby they could become independent and place themselves in easy circumstances in a short time. Such promises to the poor of Italy, who are poor to wretchedness, could not fail to effect their object. And so the poor peasants soon found themselves at the quays of New York, the destitute immigrants we have just described. But only recently the other atrocity, the enslavement of these children, has come to light. It is asserted through the Eastern press that large numbers of the children of these poor people have been actually sold into bondage by their parents to prevent their perishing from starvation. This traffic has been going on for months, until, it is said, a large majority of the Italians in the Eastern cities, who are even in moderate circumstances, have respectively one or more of these children whom they treat in all respects as slaves. Of course this slavery is illegal, and the children are not in law compelled to submit to it; but what is the law to these helpless children? Ignorant of their rights, ignorant of the language of the country, ignorant of the persons to whom they might appeal for assistance, ignorant of everything except that they are slaves and must serve their masters, it is of little moment that they are in a land where the legal status of a slave is impossible.

How came so many cases before the Police Court yesterday morning? Nineteen cases were reported. There must have been an extraordinary amount of drunkenness and disorderly conduct the day before. This beats election times, or the Fourth of July; and yet there did not appear to be any unusual disturbances on the streets. Is it true that this is business that accumulated while the Judge was rusticating down at Clatsop? If so, are the tax-payers of Portland to pay for the keeping of these prisoners during the absence of the Police Judge? This is spreading it on a little too thick. The people have a right to expect that a Police Judge who manages by hook and crook, to get somewhat over $7,000 out of them as his own compensation, will do what he can to render the other burdens with which they are saddled, as light as possible. And this calls to mind another question. Is it true as reported that the Police Judge went away without giving notice to the proper officer who is to act in his absence, and that for some days persons were arrested upon charges of violating city ordinances and set at liberty because there was no Police Judge on hand to dispose of their cases in the regular way? This is a question in which the entire city is interested. If the truth is not as reported we hope the Police Judge will make that fact known.

Senator Fenton, of New York has received a letter from General Cluseret in which the latter complains bitterly of the refusal of the Government of Belgium to allow him to go to Brussels. Cluseret, it will be remembered, was an officer in the regular army of France prior to the Franco-Prussian war. In the day of the Commune he was chosen Konig of the sans culottes. On the entry of the German army of occupation he commenced the study of rapid transit from Paris to "a more southern and a warmer clime." We believe he has spent the greater part of his exile in Geneva. Now he has some business in Brussels, involving a large sum of money. The French Government has sent a demand for his extradition, and poor Cluseret must remain in his Swiss prison, if he would avoid the annoying forms and ceremonies of a court martial. General Cluseret served in the Federal army during the war, and he says he has many valued acquaintances in this country.

Miami University, situated at Oxford, Ohio, has suspended business. It was once one of the most prosperous of Western colleges and was for some time supposed to be on a good firm basis financially. But it has suspended and the reason assigned is that the expenditures, upon the most economical system of management possible, were greatly in excess of the receipts. The annual income of $6,700 arising from endowment will be devoted to paying off the debts until these are discharged, after which it will be allowed to accumulate and become a part of the irreducible fund until such time as the friends of the Institution think there is a chance of success when they will make an effort to get it on its feet again.

Many noted men of the country look with deep sorrow on the misfortunes of Miami, for she was the Alma Mater of many who have distinguished themselves among them, if we do not mistake, Whitelaw Reid, editor of the New York Tribune.

He returned his back pay to the Treasury, and met his God with a clear conscience. Thus reads the pungent obituary on the death of a Western Congressman. It may be glory enough for one day, but if the dead Representative had no other sins to answer for, why he couldn't have been a member of the Forty-second Congress.

They say Hon. Ben. Simpson, of Polk and Benton and Marion, and all those Upper counties has got five persons pledged to his nomination—four besides us. This illustrates the old saying that the world will use a man better than he deserves, if he will but urge his own fortunes.

A great many Republicans are favorable to the nomination of Hon. T. W. Davenport, of Marion county, as candidate for Congress.

THE FIRST AUDIENCE.

The Emperor of China has yielded at last to the importunities of the bothersome representatives of occidental civilization. Our Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary has gazed on the beaming face of His hitherto-inaccessible Majesty, and is quite happy. Yankee inquisitiveness and John Bull stubbornness have conquered the obstinate custom of centuries. The first audience was granted to the diplomatic body at Pekin June 29th. We can imagine with what proud step the triumphant ambassadors first trod the penetralia of the imperial palace, how the kingly visage flushed with delight or paled with apprehension as the conventional address of the corps delivered in French varied by the musical R's and triple P's of the muscular Russian tongue fell on his ear, how he glanced askance at the royal treasury, fearful lest this long shunned incursion should end in a despoiled throne. The Emperor of China has a right to be suspicious. Looking over into India he can see what English enterprise and English cruelty once did for that barbarous realm. Or he may turn to Persia already beneath the heel of a Reuter. Better eternal solitude reasons the cautious monarch, than a kingdom divided among the Medes and Persians of commerce. We have received a very brief account of the proceedings at the first audience, which we publish herewith.

Although no notice was given of the ceremony the streets around the imperial palace were crowded with people from all parts of the city to witness the arrival and departure of the foreign Ministers. The Embassador of Japan was received first and had a separate interview. When he had retired, the Ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain, France and the Netherlands entered the presence in a body. De Vlangali, Russian Minister, and Dean of the diplomatic corps, read the address to the Emperor in French, which M. Bismarck, the interpreter of the German Legation, repeated in Chinese. Each Minister then deposited his credentials on a table in front of the throne. After this ceremony was concluded the Emperor delivered in the Manchoo dialect his reply to the address. Prince Kung, kneeling, interpreted the Emperor's words in Chinese. Eight hundred Mandarins, in splendid costumes were present. At the close of the audience the foreign Ministers were escorted to their chairs with great ceremony by members of the Bung. De Geoffrey, Minister for France had an interview with the Emperor at a later hour of the same day, and presented the letter of his Government in regard to the Tientsin massacre.

The Pekin Gazette says the wording of the imperial edict, according the audience, is considered insulting.

The postal card misunderstanding will, it is said, adjust itself, now that the franking privilege relieves the mails of the vast amounts of merchandise Congressmen were in the habit of moving through the mails. The railway companies find so great a reduction of the amount of mail matter they are required to carry that they will not insist further upon their demand for extra pay. The effect of the discontinuance of the franking privilege is reported by the New York papers to have been manifest in various ways in and about the postoffice in that city. The employes of the office, no longer burdened with the labor of distributing the tons of luggage sent through the mails, are enabled to accommodate the public with legitimate mail matter much more expeditiously than before, there are fewer mistakes and less missending of letters, and the legitimate mail matter has very generally increased. So the people of New York, it is said, are all rejoicing that the franking privilege is no more.

The Cincinnati Enquirer knows how to reciprocate the feelings that overcame the Boston papers last month when the Massachusetts legislature adjourned. It directs the public gaze to the Ohio Constitutional Convention in this style: "The drowsy Constitutional Convention has been poking along at such a ridiculous pace that nobody has paid any attention to it. Very few people know of its existence. But the venerable ex-Judge West, whose infirmities of sight are almost as aggravated as those of Gobbo's father, called the irrepressible Baber a blackguard yesterday. That's a good beginning. We shall keep an eye on the Convention now."

The St. Paul Press announces semi-officially that the Senate Special Committee on Transportation Routes to the Seaboard will report strongly in favor of another railroad from the Atlantic seaboard to the Western States. It is not stated whether the proposed route is to be built by the General Government or not. It is hinted that it is to be a freight line exclusively.

CITY.

A FORGER IN TROUBLE.—Readers will remember the case of the forger John Smith, who attempted to pass a check purporting to be signed by Mr. J. B. Montgomery and payable at the First National Bank, some weeks ago. Smith called at the dry goods store of Prager Bros. and purchased several articles of clothing. The articles purchased amounted to $[illegible]. Smith handed the merchant a check for $32. The merchant looked at the check and, suspecting nothing, gave Smith the difference in silver. A few hours subsequently he presented the check for payment, when he was informed that the signature was forged. In a few days Smith was arrested. He was indicted by the Grand Jury in the Circuit Court for the crime of forgery, but by some means or other through insufficiency of evidence, he was acquitted. Although set at liberty but a few days he began to develop his natural dishonest and knavish propensities. Yesterday he called at the store of Prager Bros. again, and offered to repay them for the check he had forged first. He told them he did not have the coin with him, but would give them what was equivalent. Whereupon he drew out a check, payable at the First National Bank, to which was attached what purported to be the bona fide signature of J. B. Montgomery. This check called for $47. As the original check amounted to $32, the sum which he claimed he owed the firm, Smith asked that the difference—$15—be handed to him. Guided by his memory as to the striking resemblance in the signatures, and smelling a good sized "mice," he concluded he would trap the bold forger. Telling Smith, to remain in the store for a few minutes until he could step out and procure change, Prager walked out and went straight to the bank. His suspicions were confirmed, and the forgery detected at a glance. The police were informed of the fact, and officer [illegible] walked around to wait on the polite forger. Smith was quietly seated in the store awaiting the return of the merchant, in anticipation of receiving his $15 as so much clear gain. He was marched off to jail, where he is now. After reaching jail he confessed to the [illegible] his guilt. An examination of the case will probably take place to-day.

A BOY DROWNED.—Yesterday a little colored boy, named Charles Butler, son of J. H. Butler, who keeps a boot-black stand on Washington street, accidentally fell out of a skiff at [illegible] & Stephens' wharf, and was drowned. The accident occurred about 11 o'clock. It [seems] that three boys—Charles Butler, James [illegible] and Willie Winter—had been out in a [skiff illegible]. At length the boys started to the wharf. When the skiff touched the piles, [a scuffle] took place among the boys to see [who would] get out on the wharf first. From the [illegible] up to the lower wharf was [about] four feet. Young Butler being first [to jump] with the intention of catching hold of the [edge] of the planks which protruded over the [water]. But before he could gain hold, the boat [illegible] shot out from under his feet and [he fell] backward into the water. He sank, but rose to the surface. Mr. J. F. [illegible] was standing on his rear stoop and [saw] the boy fall overboard. He shouted to the two [boys] in the skiff and told them to [catch hold] of young Butler until he could [illegible]. Jones then ran forward to [illegible] ground to the wharf. He [illegible] considerable distance before [illegible] reached. Meantime young [illegible] were so badly frightened [illegible] endeavoring to rescue their [companion] deserted the boat, and [illegible] Butler sank before [illegible] wharf, although that [illegible] in his power to save [illegible] no more. The water [where he] about fifteen feet deep. [illegible] immediately, and [illegible] collected on the wharf. [illegible] secured and efforts were [made to] recover the body. In all directions [illegible] dragged, and an expedient [illegible] frequently to examine [illegible] if possible, the boy. [illegible] the body was recovered and [brought] to the wharf. Subsequently the [body was] taken to the house of the grief-[stricken] parents. Charles Butler was aged 13 [years] [illegible], intelligent lad.

[illegible].—It seems that John [illegible], old [illegible] an circus manager, than [whom] no one is better known on the Pacific [coast] [illegible] met with a mishap. A few days ago, while exhibiting in Virginia City, Nevada, [illegible] had a rough tussle [illegible] and came off second [best]. Round [illegible] took place previous to the [illegible], when old Æolus ripped [illegible] on its southern aspect, from [illegible] clear to the top of the center-pole, [illegible] into the tent free, [illegible] the case with such as obtain [illegible], put on more airs than [illegible] himself disagreeable generally. Not content with the damage he had done, and with charging about inside [illegible] all manner [illegible] and always at the most [illegible], be at it, when the performance [illegible] charged through the [illegible] leaving behind him a [illegible] similar to that by which he had effected his entrance. Thus was the [illegible] cleft in twain and divided, as it [were], into two hemispheres. The tent cloth did not come down, but it filled and flapped in the wind [illegible] and threatened to do all manner of naughty things. After the [illegible] out, which they were in some haste to do, the tent was hauled down to be [illegible] performance. Not-[illegible] made of the canvas, [illegible] to the average Vir-[ginian] [illegible], and the majority [illegible] at seeing the de-[illegible] wrought.

[illegible].—Elsewhere we publish [the notice] of the Assessor, directed to the tax-[payers] of the county. Official notification is [given that] the Board of Equalization will at-[tend at] the office of the County Clerk on the [illegible] to publicly examine the assess-[ment roll], and correct all errors in valuation, [illegible] or qualities of land, lots and other [property]. All returns must be filed in the [office] of the Assessor on or before the first day [of Augus]t. Mr. Dolan informs us that many [persons] make their returns by mailing the [same] to him. Such returns he treats as so [much] waste paper. The list must be sub-[scribed] and sworn to before the Assessor, and [illegible] for reference. Persons who refuse or [neglect] to return the blanks will be assessed by [the Boar]d of Equalization as prescribed by law. Friday and Saturday Mr. Dolan can be [found] at his office.

[FIRE].—The alarm of fire last evening was [caused] by the burning of a stable belonging to Mr. Mendenhall, at the corner of Main and [illegible] streets. The building at the time [was occupied] by Mr. Fleckenstein, who saved his [horse] and wagon, but lost the harness and [some] other articles in the stable at the time. The building was torn down, thus preventing [the comm]unication to buildings adjoining. Water was not thrown until the fire had almost died [out] on account of the absence of water supply in the immediate vicinity. What was procured came from a hydrant at the corner of [illegible] and Main streets. The application of [wet] cloths to the building north of the one [burning], prevented a general conflagration. Mr. Fleckenstein says he saw a man running [from] the stable just before the fire was discovered, and it is therefore supposed the fire was the work of an incendiary.

[KEEL] LAID.—The recedence of the water of the Willamette has left the ground bare just [below] the upper saw mill of the city. This has [given] an opportunity to the carpenters to lay the keel for the second new steamboat to be [built] by the Willamette River Transportation Company. For the last three or four weeks, during the time the water has been too [high] to admit of the laying of the keels, workmen have been engaged in preparing the timbers for the hull. Most of the necessary timbers, not only for the keel, but also for the [hull] have been partially prepared, so that now the work will progress without interruption and as rapidly as possible, until the boat [is re]ady for service. The contract calls for the completion of the steamer by the 1st of [Nove]mber.

GOOD TREATMENT.—Mr. Frank Fabre, who [has] [been] undergoing medical treatment at St. [Jose]ph's Hospital in Vancouver, reports the [treatm]ent received as being excellent. Every [atten]tion was paid to him as well as to others. [There] are some twenty persons receiving treatment at the [hospit]al.

TROUBLESOME CATTLE.—Yesterday afternoon after several head of cattle had been safely driven on the Stark street ferry, one of the number got under the chain stretched across the farthest end, into the river, and swam around to the pontoon where a rope was thrown over its horns and the bovine drawn ashore. It escaped and jumped in again, this time on the wharf under the OREGONIAN office. The rethander of the band seeing the stray animal, ran off the boat and up town, and after making raids in different halls and stores were brought to the boat and taken across the river. The one that got on the wharf stepped off on the south side and was drawn ashore under the American Exchange where it remained for some time. It was finally removed from its hiding place and taken to the ferry where it became contrary and managed to get on the wharf again, from which it was at length driven off safely and placed on the boat.

CLOSING.—Masonry work was resumed yesterday on the building designed for the bank of British Columbia. The first layer of stone and the frontings for the doors and windows have been laid. The large iron vault in the center of the building has been nearly inclosed with brick. Before burglars could gain an entrance to the vault they would be compelled to dig through several feet of solid masonry to reach the outer wall of iron. This would have to be cut through with a cold chisel or some very hardy sharp-pointed instrument. The vault rests on a massive foundation built of stone and concrete, which would as successfully guard an attempt to gain admittance by "burrowing" under, as if an effort was made from any other direction. The vault is not only burglar proof, but the great thickness of the walls render it impervious to the action of the most intense heat.

TEAM CAUGHT.—Last evening about 9 o'clock, a span of large powerful horses were caught on Front street at the intersection of B. When seen, the team were running up Front street at a rapid rate. The animals were attached by the lines and neckyoke, and from appearances had torn loose from a wagon. A gentleman ran out and stopped the team, and afterwards brought them to the police headquarters. He was directed to take the animals to one of the livery stables where they could be provided for, and the name of the driver learned. On arriving at the stable it was ascertained that the team belonged to a colored named Fred. Waterford, who hauled brick into the city. We also learned that Waterford was thrown out of the wagon and had sustained serious injuries. In consequence of the lateness of the hour, further particulars could not be gathered.

DECOMPOSED QUARTZ.—Several persons while out hunting on the Sandy about thirty miles east of this city, some weeks ago, discovered a well defined lode of decomposed quartz near that stream. Small quantities of the stone were broken off and brought to East Portland. A few days since a partial assay was made of the rock. The test, although necessarily imperfect, resulted quite satisfactorily, and discovered the presence of several small particles of the precious metal. If it turns out that the quartz contains paying quantities of gold, the parties making the discovery of the lode, propose to inaugurate operations at once for the working of these mines.

GOES DOWN.—The British bark Hermine was towed down the river yesterday evening by the tug Merrimac, having on board a full cargo of grain. The Hermine carries away 800 tons of wheat for England. The vessel has not been in port more than three weeks. She was not more than five days in receiving her return cargo, which may be considered as quick dispatch. No more grain will be taken on board, either at way ports or at Astoria, the present stage of water admitting of the depth of draught required by the Hermine.

AT OLYMPIA.—The Tribune of Saturday says: "In the course of his annual visitations, Rt. Rev. B. Wistar Morris arrived in Olympia on Friday evening last. According to previous announcement, he preached in St. John's church on Saturday evening, and also on Sunday morning and evening. He was heard on each occasion by a large assemblage, and his eloquent discourses were listened to with marked attention.

INSANE MAN.—Sheriff Griffin, of Walla Walla, arrived yesterday from the Dalles, having in custody an insane [illegible] named [illegible] Flowers. The Sheriff will start this morning for Steilacoom, at which place the man will be consigned to the Asylum. Flowers is about 35 years of age, and unmarried. The cause of his mental aberration is not known.

RE-ROOFED.—Carpenters have been engaged for several days past in putting a new roof on the building on Front street formerly occupied by Zan Bros.' broom factory. The work has so far progressed that the building will soon be enclosed. In a few days all trace of the late fire will be obliterated.

ELECTED.—At a meeting held by the Board of Directors on Monday evening, Prof. W. W. Freeman was elected to the Principalship of the North Portland School, a position rendered vacant by the appointment of Prof. S. W. King as City Superintendent of the Public Schools of Portland.

AWARDED.—The contract for the painting of the new engine house of Tiger, No. 5, was awarded a few days ago. Mr. C. H. Marvin is the contractor, and the price fixed at $176.

RE-ESTABLISHED.—Zan Bros., manufacturers of Brooms, have resumed business at 49 Front street, opposite their old stand.

THE COURTS.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY J.

TUESDAY, July 22, 1873.

U. S. vs James Moore, indicted for presenting a fraudulent claim to the Government. Jury empanneled and cause on trial.

FINALLY DECIDED.

It is an old but true saying that a man is known by the books he reads and the company he keeps. This saying is illustrative of the great sewing machine war, in which nearly all the second-class machines have played prominent parts, expending much ammunition and making forced marches attended with great loss. But our readers have not seen the name of the world renowned GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE flourished before the people in the above connection, and this dignified reserve has established the popularity of the GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE, now and forever. It stands on its respectability and merits. These machines make the ELASTIC STITCH and SHUTTLE STITCH, and will be sold on installments of $10 per month. W. T. Shanahan, agent, 71 First street.

SOME people may become excited over the "terminus" of the Northern Pacific Railroad, on Puget Sound, but it does not disturb Beck & Waldman, corner Front and Washington streets, in the least, as they intend to pursue the usual course to their customers, and that is to sell goods at prices which will enable those with limited means to provide themselves with good clothing at a very small outlay of money. Parents should bring their children to this house for neat fitting suits.

Why linger in blissful ignorance? Why do you wander about seeking a place where they keep the largest and finest stock of Summer Clothing? Why pay high prices for goods when the fact has been long established that the great firm of J. KOHN & Co., 91 Front street, sell Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods so cheap? They keep the best, they sell the cheapest, and what more can be asked?

A fact worth remembering—Five cents' worth of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, given to a horse twice a week will save double that amount in grain, and the horse will be fatter, sleeker and every way worth more money than though he did not have them.

AT UNITY AND OYSTERVILLE.

A gentleman who has being "doing" the coast, furnishes us with a few scraps of news from Unity and Oysterville as below:

Court adjourned at Oysterville the same day it convened, Judge Green leaving on a blackberry expedition, and District Attorney Fletcher returned to Vancouver on Friday.

Among the Portlanders enjoying the good things at Shoalwater Bay are W. I. Wadleigh, Charles Griswold, W. F. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fishel, Miss Roberts, Miss Ryan, and Mrs. John O'Neil. The three former left for Clatsop on Thursday.

Great preparations are being made by the Shoal Water Bay Yacht Club for the yacht race which is to take place on the 24th inst. Seventeen boats have been entered and probably more will join in the contest. Mr. Loomis' boat is the favorite at present. The prizes are a silver cup, a chronometer and a marine glass. In the evening a grand ball will take place at Espy's Hall.

Wm. Barnes, wife and daughter, Mrs. O. Severance and daughter, are camped out near Unity.

The Bay View House at Unity is an excellent hotel. Our informant says Mrs. Hunter, wife of the proprietor, can get up deviled crabs better than any body he knows of, and it is the same with other edibles the lady prepares to those who are fortunate enough to go there.

The Mr. Barnes, above referred to, is building a cottage for his own use at this place, which will be ready for occupancy in about a month.

The road to Oysterville, and most people know it, is as smooth as a floor. The distance between the two points over this road is twenty miles, and behind a fast team the trip can be made in an hour and a half.

Passengers are transported three times a week to Unity by the steam tug Varuna, and altogether the trip is an extremely pleasant one. The description given us convinces us of this fact.

The robe de chambre "Princesse" is the favorite shape, cut all in one, going to the figure, but not fitting closely.

Importance of Healthy Blood.

Every drop of blood that circulates through the veins eventually becomes a solid particle of the body. Flesh, bone and muscle are merely solidified blood, and upon the quality of the blood depends the condition of the whole physical system. Unless the liquid material by which the human substance is renewed and sustained is pure and nutritious it is impossible that the body can be healthy and strong. One of the most important properties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is that of improving the condition of the vital fluid when infected or impoverished. Acting directly and powerfully upon the stomach, in which the manufacture of the blood is commenced and upon the liver which secretes a fluid next in importance to the stream of life itself, this powerful vegetable tonic and depurent has an immense indirect influence upon the circulation. Hence the extraordinary cures wrought by the Bitters in cases of general debility, malarious fevers, rheumatism, biliousness, constipation, &c.

IT IS NO FICTION.—Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has cured and is now curing thousands of sufferers from that terrible disease, consumption. Do not hesitate a moment, but provide yourself with this cure, which has had an enviable reputation for nearly half a century.

FOR SALE,

850,000 Acres Land

IN SOUTHERN OREGON.

Title Perfect—U. S. Land Grant Fully Confirmed.

THE "PACIFIC LAND COMPANY," INCORPORATED with capital stock of 5,000 shares of par value of $240 each, have purchased the road and entire land grant of the "OREGON CENTRAL MILITARY ROAD COMPANY," consisting of over 870,000 acres of Agricultural, Grazing and Timber Lands,

Passing from Eugene City, (125 miles from Portland by Railroad), through the splendid "Lake Country," to Silver City, near the border of Idaho.

Each share of the PACIFIC LAND COMPANY thus representing now over 160 acres of land, and is UNASSESSABLE.

Three thousand shares belong to the Company, and will be offered for sale by us, the entire proceeds of which will go into the Treasury.

The first one thousand shares will be offered at $120 per share, UNITED STATES CURRENCY—say at the rate of 75 cents per acre. Every share will also be received at its par value of $240 in payment for land, as soon as the appraisals are made. Such share will then be cancelled and not reissued, and a deed given to the purchaser.

The land will be appraised at moderate rates, in accordance with its actual value, as soon as practicable, in sections of 640 acres, and at not less than $1.50 per acre, U. S. Currency, and offered for sale. Actual settlers, however, always having preference.

We refer, as to the character of this magnificent grant of land, to CLARENCE KING, Esq., the U. S. Geologist for this coast, who is familiar with it from personal observation, also to the elaborate report of the Hon. B. J. Pengra, late Surveyor General of Oregon, on this road and lands, from which we quote: "There is but very little of the entire grant but what is valuable for either Farming, Grazing or Lumbering purposes."

As shares are cancelled, the average of acres to the remaining shares will naturally increase, and from cash sales dividends will be declared.

IMMIGRANTS,

BY BUYING THESE SHARES, CAN SECURE GOOD LANDS, WITH PERFECT TITLE, AT LESS THAN GOVERNMENT RATES.

For Custodians of Trust Funds, the shares of the PACIFIC LAND COMPANY combine absolute security based on the lands, with promise of large returns, and no investment can be better for CHILDREN, as the value of the property must increase immensely in a few years.

Remittances for shares can be sent to us by Wells, Fargo & Co., or in registered letters.

Full particulars, maps and a descriptive pamphlet can be obtained at our office, where the subscription book for the shares is now open.

COLEMAN'S EUCALYPTUS

Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medical qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medical utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, tonic, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1-lb bottles.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 23, 1873

FARMERS' DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

[From the Iowa Homestead.]

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for a class of people suffering from a long continued systems of oppression and abuse to rouse themselves from an apathetic indifference to their own interests, which has become habitual, to assume among their fellow-citizens that equal station and demand from the Government they support those equal rights to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitles them, a decent respect for the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the cause that impels them to a course so necessary to their own protection.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights governments are instituted among them, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever the powers of a government become destructive of these, either through the injustice or inefficiency of its laws, or through the corruption of its administrators, it is the right of the people to abolish such laws, and institute such reforms as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that laws long established shall not be changed for light and trifling causes, and accordingly, all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the laws to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuse and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a desire to reduce people under the absolute despotism of combinations, that, under the fostering care of government, and with wealth wrung from the people, have grown to such gigantic proportions as to overshadow all the land, and wield an almost irresistible influence for their own selfish purposes, in all its halls of legislation, it is their right—it is their duty to throw off such tyranny, and provide new guards for their future security.

Such has been the patient sufferance of the producing classes of these States, and such is now the necessity which compels them to declare that they will use every means save a resort to arms to overthrow this despotism of monopoly, and to reduce all men claiming the protection of American laws to an equality before those laws, making the owner of railroad as amenable thereto as the "veriest beggar that walks the streets, the sun and air his sole inheritance."

The history of the present railway monopoly is a history of repeated injuries and oppressions, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over the people of th[illegible] unequaled in any monarchy of the Old World, and having its only parallel in the history of the medieval ages, when the strong hand was the only law, and the highways of commerce were taxed by the feudal barons, who, from their strongholds, surrounded by their armies of vassals, could levy such tribute upon the traveler as their own wills alone should dictate. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world:

They have influenced our executive officers to refuse their assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good, and when such laws have been passed they have utterly refused to obey them.

They have procured the passage of other laws for their own benefit alone, by which they have put untold millions into their own coffers, to the injury of the entire commercial and industrial interests of the country.

They have influenced legislation to suit themselves by bribing venal legislators to betray the true interests of their constituents, while others have been kept quiet by the compliment of free passes.

They have repeatedly prevented the re-election of representatives for opposing with manly firmness their invasion of the people's rights.

They have, by false representations and subterfuge, induced the people to subscribe funds to build roads, whose rates, when built, are so exorbitant that in many instances transportation by private conveyance is less burdensome.

They have procured charters by which they [illegible] and by virtue of these charters they are absolutely above the control of legal enactments.

They have procured a law of Congress by which they have dispossessed hundreds of farmers of the homes that by years of toil they have built up; have induced others to mortgage their lands for roads never intended to be built, and after squandering the money thus obtained have left their victims to the mercy of courts over which they have absolute sway.

They have obstructed the administration of justice by injunctions procured from venal judges, by legal quibbles and appeals from court to court, with intent to wear out or ruin their prosecutor, openly avowing their determination to make it so terrible for the public to prosecute them that they will not dare undertake it.

They have virtually made judges dependent on their will alone, and have procured their appointment for the express purpose of reversing a decision of the highest court of the nation, by which millions were gained to them, to the injury of the holders of the bonds, and the breaking down of this last safeguard of American freemen.

They have affected to render themselves independent of and superior to the civil power, by ordering large bodies of hirelings to enforce their unlawful exactions, and have protected them from punishment for an injury they might inflict upon peaceful citizens, while ejecting them from their conveyances for refusing to pay more than the rate of fare prescribed by laws.

They have arrested and summoned from their homes for trial, at distant points, other citizens for the same offense of refusing to pay more than the legal fare, putting them to as great inconvenience and expense as possible, and still further evincing their determination to make it too terrible for the people to dare engage in any legal contest with them.

They have combined together to destroy competition and to practice an unjust discrimination, contrary to the expressed provisions of our Constitution and the spirit of our law.

They have virtually cut off our trade with distant parts of the world by their unjust discriminations and by their exorbitant rates of freight, forcing upon us the alternative of accumulating upon our hands a worthless surplus, or of giving three-fourths of the price our customers pay for our products for their transportation.

Under the false and specious pretense of developing the country, they have obtained enormous grants of public lands from Congress, and now retard rather than develop its settlement, by the high prices charged for such land.

They have converted the bonds fraudulently obtained from the Government into a great corruption fund, with which they are enabled to bribe and control Legislatures, and subvert every branch of government to their own base and sordid purpose.

They have increased the already intolerable burden of taxation, which the people have to endure, compared with which the tea and stamp tax which precipitated the war of the revolution seems utterly insignificant, by the appropriation of money from the public treasury, while they have escaped taxation themselves by evading and violating the expressed provisions of their charters.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned our Legislatures for redress in the most humble terms. Our repeated petitions have been answered only by silence, or by attempts to frame laws that shall seem to meet our wants, but that are, in fact, only a legal snare for courts to disagree upon and for corporations to disobey.

Nor have we been wanting in attempts to obtain redress through Congress. We have warned them from time to time of these various and repeated encroachments upon our rights; we have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here; we have appealed to them as the administrators of a free and impartial government, to protect us from these encroachments, which, if continued, would invariably end in the utter destruction of those liberties for which our fathers gave their lives, and the reinstatement of privileged classes and an aristocracy of wealth, worse than that from which the war of the revolution freed us. They have been deaf to the voice of justice and of duty. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which compels us to denounce their criminal indifference to our wrongs, and hold them as we hold our Legislature, enemies to the producer—the monopolists friends.

We, therefore, the producers of this State, in our several counties assembled, on this, the anniversary of that day that gave birth to a nation of freemen and to a government of which, despite the corruption of its officers, we are still so justly proud, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do solemnly declare that we will use all lawful and peaceful means to free ourselves from the tyranny of monopoly, and that we will never cease our efforts for reform until every department of our Government gives token that the reign of licentious extravagance is over, and something of the purity, honesty and frugality with which our fathers have inaugurated it has taken its place.

That to this end we hereby declare ourselves absolutely free and independent of all past political connections, and that we will give our suffrage only to such men for office, from the lowest officer in the State to the President of the United States, as we have good reason to believe will use their best endeavors to the promotion of these ends; and for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.

The interior demand for coin to move the Wool clip has made no perceptible impression on this market. We may, however, predict that the grain crop will not be got off without a more manifest tendency toward a closer condition of finances in our home market, than we are, at present, suffering. The farmers are not numerously attending our market at this season, being engaged in saving the hay and early grain crops. This fact is apparent in its results on the trade of the city the current week. Business is hardly so active as was anticipated, and though considerable produce is reaching this market, both by land and water, the money movement is small in the aggregate, as what we are now receiving has been heretofore purchased and stood along the river and railroad subject to order. Remittances from the interior for goods purchased here last spring, have been coming forward quite as freely as was anticipated. These, however, have been comparatively small, as many of our merchants so managed their business that fewer accounts are out than usual. Many of them only credited for any considerable amounts where the time was not short and the security good. In general, such has been the foresight with which affairs have been conducted, and the experience that has been brought to bear in providing for the necessities that usually occur at this season that no apprehensions of serious embarrassment on the fall trade, on account of a lack of funds, need be felt, especially as the amount of capital in circulation is doubtless considerably larger than last year.

The British House of Commons has voted £18,000,000, credits and money, to the Dominion of Canada for railway extensions. Of this large sum, £2,500,000, or $12,500,000, is by way of endorsement of 4 ℔ cent. Debentures, per agreement in the settlement of the Washington Treaty of 1871, and £1,100,000, or $5,500,000, transferred from the defense fund against the Fenian raids voted in 1870. The whole subsidy grows out of the settlement of the fisheries question, and the assumption by the British Government of the Fenian invasion claims, which our Government declined to recognize before the High Joint Commission. The plain story seems to be that the British Government have added to our own award at Geneva of $15,000,000, the sum of $18,000,000 for Canada, for the settlement of the Alabama and all other international questions in the Treaty of Washington.

The New York Times of the 12th says: "There seems to be no remaining doubt that Mr. Vanderbilt and his friends will control the great business of the Western Union Telegraph after the annual election in October; and as it is understood that the President of the company is already working in concert with Mr. Vanderbilt, and (it is said) with his full confidence, the affairs of the telegraph are already being directed to a reform and economy which they have never known before. The stiffness of the stock in the last few days points to the results which we have indicated, and there is evidently less inclination to sell it Short, from any supposed want of concert between the parties inside the company and Mr. Vanderbilt, who is expected to take control in October."

A Manchester (England) circular, under date of June 28, says of the metal market:

The Scotch pig iron market for warrants has partially recovered from the late depression, and a fair amount of business is reported. The shipment for the past week were 17,287 tons against 19,904 tons in the corresponding week for last year. There is not much doing in Middlesborough pig iron, and parcels in the hands of merchants are offered at prices under those quoted by the smelters. The unsatisfactory condition of the trade in manufactured iron has showed no sign of abatement, but it is hoped that the forthcoming quarterly meetings may bring with them a solution of the difficulties which are now paralyzing this most essential portion of our national productions. Copper is quiet, but the apprehension of further troubles with their workmen has rendered smelters chary of quoting except for quantities compatible with immediate delivery. The charters from the West Coast for the latter half of May are reported as 1,900 tons, consisting of 800 tons of bars and 1,100 tons of ore and regulus. The effect of the recent advances in tin has been to make holders of straits more free sellers, but rates continue very steady, and the tendency is in an upward direction.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—Market quiet at $1 50 ℔ cental. Harvest being about at hand, but little is offering, while the present demand is light.

FLOUR—But little movement is noted. Prices remain at $5 ℔ bbl for extra of standard brands, with 50c to $1 off for country brands and superfine.

OATS—The demand is moderate and only small lots to close out the old crop, are offering. Buyers still refuse any advance on 45 cents per bushel, sacked.

HAY—Market well supplied, trade quiet at $12@13 per ton for good Timothy.

BARLEY—The demand is dull, except for local use, and quotations only moderate at $1 40@1 45 per cwt.

POTATOES—There is an adequate supply in the market, quotable at 50@60 cents per bushel.

ONIONS—Small lots of the new crop are at hand, selling at 2½ and 3 cents per pound.

BUTTER—Though a considerable diminution in receipts has taken place, prices are without important change, ranging still from 15@30 cents, according to quality.

EGGS—Prices in San Francisco having advanced to 26 cents, our market is firm, and holders are demanding an advance here corresponding with that below. Quotations are furnished at 22 cents per dz. with a prospect of a downward movement.

BACON—The supply on hand is still large, and quotable at 8@9 cents per pound for Shoulders, 10@12c for Sides, and 14@15c for Hams.

HIDES—We quote our market active at 6@7c for green, 7@8c for green salted, and 14@15c for dry. A deduction is made on these rates for any damaged lots.

WOOL—A fair degree of activity is noted among buyers, who are now securing quite large lots at 20@25c per pound. Our latest Eastern advices indicate large receipts and heavy stocks are on the market, which is attracting a large number of manufacturers, but these are apparently backward about making extended orders at current rates.

Shipping Intelligence.

We learn that the Edward James, Garibaldi and Forward have all been chartered to load lumber at the North Portland Saw Mills, the James and Forward for Melbourne, and the Garibaldi for Hongkong.

The Astorian of this morning says: The cargo of the Ajax from this port last Sunday morning, was one of the most valuable that has yet left the Columbia river to enter into the foreign exports of California. Besides what she took at the fisheries up the river 1,152 packages, or about 16,500 cans, were loaded at Astoria.

The steamship John L. Stephens, from San Francisco arrived at a late hour this morning. She is announced to sail on Friday at 1 P. M.

The ships Confidence and Middlesex are both rapidly receiving their cargoes of wheat and will soon be loaded.

The ship Herbine dropped down the river to-day. She will be ready to go to sea in a few days.
